

HIGHER WAGES URGED BY PRESIDENT

TWO CHINESE
FACTIONS FAR
FROM ACCORDRATTLE OF GUNFIRE
CONTINUES IN 11
PROVINCES

BY SPENCER MOOSA
Chungking, Oct. 30 (AP)—Gunfire rattled on in 11 provinces of disunited China today, while central government and Chinese Communist spokesmen in Chungking conceded that the violence-provoking gap between them seemed almost hopelessly wide.

American marines, "walking a tightrope" to maintain order in some Japanese-surrendered sectors until the government can assume control, cannot keep it up forever without serious trouble, one high American army officer at Shanghai asserted today. The central government, he declared, had better send troops quickly to such potentially explosive spots as the Chinwan area of north-west Honan Province.

Making No Headway
Central government troops are rushing into the inner Mongolian Province of Suiyuan, the Chinese press said today, seeking by a show of force to control this scene of recent big-scale clashes between government units and the Chinese Communist forces.

In Chungking, both sides barked back and forth without noticeable headway as the struggle for supremacy in North China and inner Mongolia goes on. Odds just now favor the government; and one Red spokesman blamed this on American "interference," pointing to the movement of government forces in American planes as one example.

Both sides admitted practically no efforts to reach an accord. From Moscow today came an unofficial explanation of another recently deadlocked Chinese problem—the use of Manchurian Port Arthur and Dairen as ports at which to land general government troops.

The recent Soviet-Chinese pact provided for joint use of Port Arthur "as a naval base" and of Dairen for "imports and exports."

There was no stated permission to land troops at either port.

Tax Slashing Bill
Approved 297 to 33.
Goes To President

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Amid new appeals for a balanced budget, the House today voted final approval, 297 to 33, of the first tax-reducing bill in 16 years.

Senate action Thursday on the measure, designed to cut 1946 burdens by $5,920,000,000, will send it to President Truman for his signature.

Senators said the bill is intended to increase production and employment, and puts the responsibility for doing so on business.

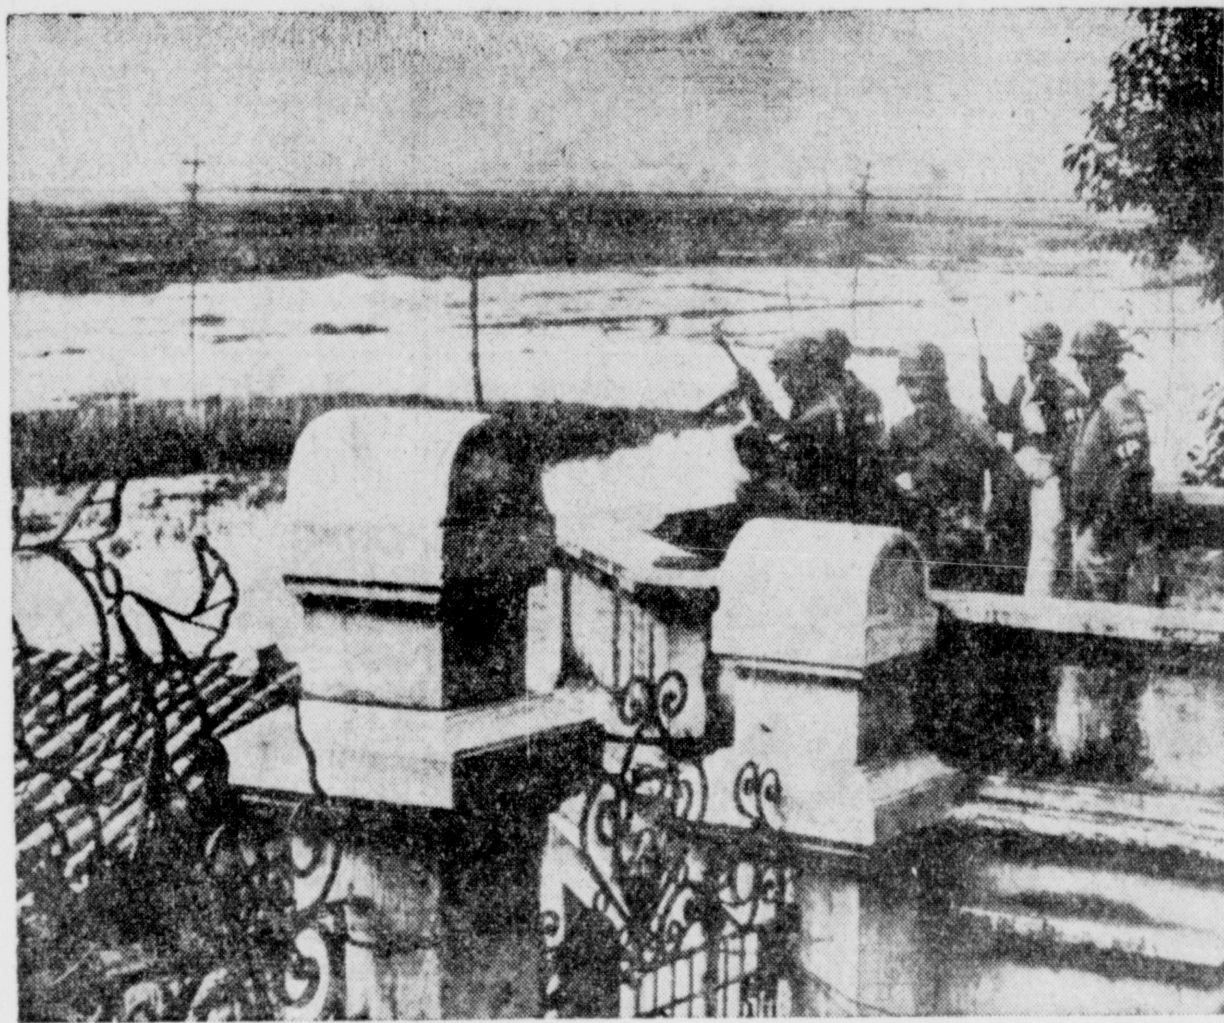

The legislation removes 12,000,000 low income persons from the tax rolls completely, assures millions of others earning up to $50,000 a year tax reductions ranging from 10 to 40 percent or more—with smaller cuts for higher income brackets, and provides special tax treatment for veterans of World War II.

Slaughter Of Civilians
In Manila Described
At Yamashita's Trial

Manila, Oct. 30 (AP)—A mad, indiscriminate slaughter of civilians last February when troops under command of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita realized they could not hold the city, was described today by witnesses at the Japanese general's trial on war crime charges.

Survivors told how infuriated Japanese ran wild among Manila's fashionable Taft Avenue, sparing neither women nor children nor the aged and helpless as they hacked, stabbed, shot and raped in a futile frenzy.

When American Marines fought their way past the gates of De La Salle College on Feb. 12, Father Francis Joseph Cosgrave testified, a Japanese officer gave the order to slaughter the inmates. Before they were driven out of the place the Japanese had killed 40 men, women and children, including Brother Xavier, the college head.

Father Cosgrave was bayoneted, but found refuge behind the altar and lay there for three days. When Americans found him his white robe had turned brown with dried blood.

German-born Brother Anthony, brought from the hospital where he is recovering from eight bayonet wounds, identified with monotonous regularity the photographs of other De La Salle brothers as "dead * * * dead * * * dead."

An attractive Filipino girl who lost four members of her family in the massacre said a Japanese soldier shot her in the breast and then attempted to rape her as she lay wounded.

Interspersed among these recitals of a reign of horror and savagery were arguments of counsel over admissibility of evidence and the technical aspects of a precedent-breaking trial involving the responsibility of a commanding general for atrocities committed by his men.

The five-general commission consistently upheld the prosecution in these legal skirmishes.

The House Military Committee approved, 17 to 10, a bill establishing a nine-man commission with vast power over all sources of atomic energy and research.

The commission would serve part time and be paid by the day, but would appoint a full-time, $15,000 a year director and a $12,000 a year deputy.

The commission would not be permitted to pass on to any foreign power any atomic energy secrets without the approval of the president. The committee rejected a provision that would have given Congress a veto on this subject.

Ford Reported Ready To Offer Substantial
Pay Increase

Detroit, Oct. 30 (AP)—The CIO United Automobile Workers' Union disclosed today that contract negotiations with the Ford Motor Co. have been deferred until November 20.

Postponement of the conferences, originally set for early in the month, gave immediate rise to speculation that a "break" might be impending in the apparent stalemate between the car industry and the union over demands for a 30 per cent wage rate increase.

There have been reports, unconfirmed in company or union sources, that Ford is prepared to offer a "substantial" wage rate increase. The reports were given additional impetus following a recent visit by Henry Ford II, company president, to Secretary Schwelmbach, during which the whole labor situation in the automotive industry is understood to have been discussed.

The union's 30 per cent wage increase demands have been formally presented to General Motors and Chrysler corporations as well as the Ford company. General Motors, rejecting the demand, countered with a proposal that the union join with it in seeking revision of the wage and hour law to make the basic work week 45 hours instead of the present 40 hours, and coupled with it an offer of a six per cent wage increase. The proposal was turned down by the union.

Students Are Told
To Avoid Sinatra
Address In Gary

Gary, Ind., Oct. 30 (AP)—White students of Froebel high school, on strike for the second time against bi-racial policies of their principal, were under instructions tonight from a leader of a group of their parents not to attend a meeting Thursday at which Frank Sinatra will speak.

John Jadnak, chairman of a committee of Froebel parents, told the students to "stay away from" the Sinatra meeting. He said at a meeting of parents that there were some developments under way which he could not divulge.

Jadnak urged the students to stay away from school until he gave the word and then to return 100 per cent.

Sinatra, radio and movie singer, will speak at Memorial Auditorium under sponsorship of the Anselm Youth Forum. The meeting will be open to all Gary high school students.

The Froebel students, who charged that Principal R. A. Nuzum favored Negro students, struck Monday for the second time after an investigating committee had exonerated Nuzum.

VETERANS MOVE IN
Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP)—More than 50 war veterans and their families today moved into the University of Michigan's 39 duplex homes, which were transported here recently from Willow Run for married veterans attending the university. The homes for 78 families will be available to alleviate the critical housing shortage here.

ARMY UNVEILS
NEW MILITARY
CONTROL PLANLAND, SEA AND AIR
FORCES MERGER
AVOIDED

BY EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Amid praise from sympathetic senators, the army today unveiled its detailed charts for a single cabinet department with authority over land, sea and air forces.

Sensitive to strong navy opposition to any merger of the navy and war departments, the army spokesman quickly assured legislators "this is not a proposal to merge the army, navy, and air force into a single service."

Instead, Lt. General J. Lawton Collins described the proposal as one that would "guarantee adequate autonomy" for the navy, the marines and navy air units, as well as the air forces and the army. All would be placed under a single civilian "secretary of the armed forces."

Senator Austin (R-Vt.), an advocate of the single armed forces idea, indicated by his questions that the proposal would "strengthen the traditional civilian control over the military."

Assistants Provided
Collins said "the war department plans leaves all military control squarely in the hands of the president," as commander-in-chief. There would be a chief of staff for the president; a chief of staff for all the armed forces; and separate chiefs of staff for air, army and navy.

On the civilian side aiding the "secretary of the armed forces" would be:

An undersecretary with broad supervisory authority similar to that now held by the undersecretary of state.

An assistant secretary to superintend and coordinate scientific research and coordinate military programs with civilian agencies.

An assistant secretary to supervise procurement and industrial mobilization plans.

An assistant secretary to supervise legislative affairs and public information.

Operations Shifted
By Graham-Paige To Willow Run Plants

Detroit, Oct. 30 (AP)—Graham-Paige Motors Corp. disclosed today that it has leased its present manufacturing plant to the Office of Surplus Property of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The announcement was made by Joseph W. Frazer, president of Graham-Paige and the newly organized Kaiser-Frazer Corp., in a special communication to stockholders of the former company.

Graham-Paige, which has 11.36 per cent equity interest in the Kaiser-Frazer Corp., is transferring its operations to the big Willow Run bomber plant, where it will produce the Frazer automobile, a tractor and other farm implements.

The Kaiser-Frazer lease on Willow Run involves an annual rental of $500,000 for the first year, $850,000 for the second and $1,200,000 each for the third, fourth and fifth years.

The report to Graham-Paige stockholders said rental of the company's present plant to the RFC was for a period of two years at an annual rental of approximately $500,000 with renewal options.

After payment of taxes and fixed charges, the statement said, it was estimated that the net proceeds of the lease would amount to approximately $375,000 a year.

Fire Sweeps Grain
Elevator In Chicago
With $125,000 Loss

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—A spectacular fire swept an abandoned grain elevator on the South Side tonight, sending up billowing flames seen by airplane pilots 30 miles away and causing damage estimated by Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan at $125,000.

A 5-11 alarm and two special alarms were turned in, summoning 65 pieces of fire fighting equipment and 300 policemen, as well as fireboats, to the scene.

The elevator building, near Archer Avenue and 24th Street on the south bank of the Chicago river, was an eight-story wood and brick structure lined with sheet iron.

The fire, brought under control after two hours, was visible to person in suburbs.

POST-WAR NAVY
GETS APPROVAL

House Supports Plan
For Keeping 1,082
Fighting Ships

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Legislation expressing the "sense" of Congress that the United States shall maintain a postwar navy of 1,082 fighting ships was passed, 347-0, today by the House.

It lacks the effect of law and does not go to the president even if and when the Senate gives it approval. It is merely an expression of congressional intention for guidance of the navy and the congressional appropriations committees.

The legislation calls for a postwar navy composed of not fewer than the following numbers and types of ships:

Three large aircraft carriers (Midway type, approximately 45,000 tons).

Ten light carriers (approximately 11,000 tons).

Seventy-nine escort carriers, 18 battleships, three large cruisers, 31 heavy cruisers, 48 light cruisers, 367 destroyers, 300 destroyer escorts, 199 submarines, and "sufficient aircraft, auxiliary vessels, mine vessels, patrol vessels, landing craft, district craft, and drydocks" to support the fleet.

The total of ships is smaller than the wartime navy of 1,308 comparable vessels. One-third of it would be kept fully-manned and ready for any emergency, one-third would be held in reserve and ready for action on short notice, and one-third would be decommissioned, but available for recommissioning.

All the ships in the postwar navy either already are in service or are being built under congressional authorization.

Strikers To Resume
Jobs In Hollywood
By Order Of AFL

Hollywood, Oct. 30 (AP)—Film producers said tonight they and strike leader Herbert K. Sorrell had been informed from Washington by the AFL that the 7,000 studio workers who have been on strike since March 12 are to report to their jobs tomorrow.

A spokesman for the producers said a telegram from AFL officials in Washington, where a mediation conference was held today to adjust remaining jurisdictional points of difference, reported that an agreement had been reached on an immediate return to work.

The AFL order was submitted to the strikers at a mass meeting tonight.

The producers' spokesman said the telegram read:

"It is definitely and clearly understood that all striking employees in Hollywood who were on call on March 12, shall be returned to work immediately.

Each employee will return to the position he formerly occupied when the strike occurred.

Fighting In Java
Ends With Truce;
Indonesians Win

Batavia, Java, Oct. 30 (AP)—A renewed battle at Soerabaja finally ended tonight after the British general there arranged a truce said to give Indonesian nationalists a large measure of control of the big Java naval base.

Maj. Gen. D. C. Hawthorne entered nationalist lines this afternoon with President Sukarno of the "Indonesian Republic" and fixed the truce. Soerabaja was reported quiet shortly before midnight, but some fighting had continued at points up until 9 p. m., British officers here said.

Some observers here regarded the truce as a victory for the Indonesians, since it was a British order to surrender their arms which provoked the three-day battle in which 20 British Indian troops were killed and 59 were wounded. Indonesian casualties were not announced.

Industry Can Afford Raise,
Truman Says

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Highlights from President Truman's speech on wages and prices tonight:

The American people are entitled to know now that this government stands for prosperity and jobs—not depression and relief.

x x x I believe that industry as a whole can afford substantial wage increases without price increases.

I do not think all of us understand how hard a blow our industrial workers have suffered in the shift from war production to peace production.

If nothing is done to help the workers in this situation, millions of families will have to tighten their belts—and by several notches.

Wage increases are therefore imperative—to cushion the shock to our workers, to sustain adequate purchasing power and to raise the national income.

However, there are important limits upon the capacity of industry to raise wages without getting price increases.

Labor x x x has a stern responsibility to see that demands for wage increases are reasonable.

Labor and management must adopt collective bargaining as the effective and mature way of doing business.

As a free people, we must have the good sense to bargain peaceably and sincerely.

Public opinion will not countenance refusal on the part of either management or labor to proceed in a peaceful, free and democratic manner to arrive at just conclusions.

There is no room in our economy for unfair dealing or for greedy individuals or groups on either side who want their own way regardless of the cost to others.

Labor is the best customer management has; and management is the source of labor's livelihood.

It is essential that the Congress speedily adopt some effective legislation which embodies the principles underlying full employment.

We need more of the good sense, the reasonableness, the consideration for the position of the other fellow, the teamwork which we had during the war.

SHOE RATIONING
COMES TO END

Production Makes Steady
Increase; Some Styles
Still Short

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—The end of shoe rationing was ordered today, effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday.

Terminating a program which began on February 8, 1943, OPA Administrator Chester Bowles said rationing can be lifted because shoe production has increased substantially since V-J day.

Some trouble spots can be expected for a while, Bowles said, adding that customers "may not always be able to buy the styles they want."

"But both the War Production Board and the OPA have agreed xxx that no general hardship should result from the discontinuance of shoe rationing xxx."

The OPA chief reported that shoe output climbed from 20,000,000 pairs in August to around 28,000,000 pairs this month.

Bowles said the outlook for November and December is for 29 to 30 million pairs of shoes each month. This, he added, would be equal to demand before the war.

OPA called on shoe merchants to give preferential treatment to returning servicemen and women.

British Commander
Murdered In Java

Batavia, Wednesday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Brigadier A. W. F. Mallaby, commander of the 49th Indian Infantry Brigade, the British force occupying Soerabaja, was "foully murdered" last night, Lt. General Sir Phillip Christison, commander of the Allied forces in the Netherlands East Indies, announced today.

Christison's announcement said Mallaby was killed "while arranging details of a cease fire order in company with Indonesian leaders at Soerabaja at 6 p. m. yesterday."

PRICE BOOSTS
THREE CASESLABOR IS WARNED TO KEEP DEMANDS
REASONABLE

BY STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Truman tonight urged higher wages for labor generally—without increase in prices—but authorized pay boosts in industries essential to reconversion even if their prices go up.

Declaring that peacetime cuts in earnings are a sure road to "wide unemployment" if not corrected, he named three classes of workers entitled to wage boosts although they mean rise in prices of the goods they produce.

"I wonder how many of you know that many war workers have already had to take, or will soon have to take, a cut in their wartime pay by one-quarter or more," he said in his long awaited wage-price broadcast.

Must Tighten Belts
" * * * If nothing is done to help the workers in this situation, millions of families will have to tighten their belts by several notches."

But the president stated the nation must "above all else hold the line on prices" in general and told labor it has a "stern responsibility" to see that demands for pay increases are reasonable.

Simultaneously with the broadcast on all major networks, he amended the so-called "V-R" stabilization order of August 18 by instructing the stabilization director to approve price increases wherever they are necessary for three types of cases:

First, where the increase in straight-time hourly earnings since January, 1941, has not equalled the rise in living costs between then and September of this year.

(On this point Stabilization Director Collett, in a separate statement, said:

"The cost of living in the nation as a whole has increased approximately 30 per cent since January, 1941. If the average straight-time hourly earnings of employees (in a plant or other unit) have increased by less than 30 per cent since January, 1941, this standard will permit the removal of price obstacles to a wage increase sufficient to make up the difference.")

(He said straight time hourly earnings in the majority of industries are currently more than 30 per cent above their January, 1941, level.)

Second, where increases are needed to correct inequities in wage rates among plants in the same industry or locality.

Third, to insure full production in any industry which is designed by the stabilization director as "essential to reconversion" and in which present pay is too low to attract needed workers.

Wage increases would be limited to a relatively few industries under the first grouping, it was believed, but the third might affect a considerable body of labor, depending upon which industries are found "essential."

Week Not Mentioned
Mr. Truman made it clear that the expected industry to make wage adjustments, in every case possible, without seeking price compensation.

"While the positions of different industries vary greatly, there is room in the existing price structure for business as a whole to grant increases in wage rates," he stated.

Persons who saw a draft of the president's speech earlier were expecting it to propose that employers generally could grant 48 hours' pay for 40 hours work, but the final test did not make that specific suggestion.

PRICE BOOSTS PERMITTED IN THREE CASES

The president said that part of industry's ability to pay higher wages arises from the same thing that creates labor's need—the dropping of overtime and the “down-grading” of workers to jobs calling for less money.

Others will result, he said, from increased productivity per worker, industry's already “very favorable profit position,” and the proposed ending of the excess profits tax.

Loophole Given

But to protect industry from any financial risk in granting a wage increase, he announced—and included in his executive order—a provision that after an industry has operated on a higher wage system for six months, it may apply for a higher price with the understanding that the full wage increase will be taken into consideration by the government in ruling on the price request.

“In cases where no approval of the wage increase has been requested by management, or even where a request has been made and denied by the government, industry will not be asked by government to take an unreasonable chance in absorbing such wage-increase,” he promised.

A sound spanking for Congress was included in the president's description on the “blow our industrial workers have suffered,” noting that he asked higher unemployment compensation several months ago, with no result so far.

Machinery Unchanged

The reconversion of plants, developing of new sources of supply, new products and new markets, using and training inexperienced workers, and paying higher prices for materials will mean “at the beginning, lower volume and higher unit cost,” he pointed out.

“Labor itself has a responsibility to aid industry in reaching this goal of higher production and more jobs.

“Labor must constantly find ways within its own ranks on cutting down on absenteeism, reducing turn-over, avoiding jurisdictional disputes and ‘wild-cat’ strikes.

“Labor and management must adopt collective bargaining as the effective and mature way of doing business.”

For the time being, the governmental machinery for administering the revised wage-price policy will remain the same as during the war, Mr. Truman stated. (The president did not make it clear, and no immediate explanation was available, whether this meant prolongation of the life of the War Labor Board, now due to expire by January 1.)

He called attention to the national labor-management conference convening here next Monday, at his request, to consider machinery for mediation or arbitration of differences.

Associates of AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray said neither would have any comment on the speech tonight. Both had urged that he go farther than he did in his proposals.

Four-Power Council Created To Assist In Governing Japan

BY GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—The United States and Russia were believed near agreement tonight on a plan to create a four-power council for Japan which would not abridge the supreme authority of General MacArthur.

High U. S. officials indicated this government would accept such a council in return for Russia's participation in the Allied Far Eastern advisory commission which met for the first time in Washington today without a Soviet representative.

The commission was established to give advice on the governing of Japan.

Russia long has contended that the four-power council—composed of U. S., Russian, British and Chinese representatives—should be established in Tokyo in advance of the Washington advisory commission. The commission adjourned today for a week with the hope that Russia would be on hand for the second meeting.

NEW PRESIDENT GOVERNS BRAZIL

Regime Of Chief Justice Stands With U. S. On Foreign Policy

BY CHANDLER DIEHL

Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 30 (AP)—Chief Justice Jose Linhares, sworn in today as Brazil's 15th president, said that elections would be held as scheduled Dec. 2 and “I will govern the country as a jurist” until the elected president takes office.

Getulio Vargas, the “strong man” who ruled Brazil for 15 years, will fly tomorrow to his home in southern Brazil, Linhares announced. Vargas resigned last night after the army, navy and air force withdrew their support. Linhares automatically became president under the 1937 constitution.

Immediately after the inaugural ceremonies at Catete Palace, Linhares appeared on the balcony of the presidential house and received ovations from the huge crowds massed outside.

Acknowledging the cheers, Linhares declared:

“Let us get to work.”

He turned quickly and left the balcony.

A high official in the foreign office declared that the Linhares administration would stand shoulder to shoulder with the United States on foreign policy and would keep all international agreements of the previous government.

Eight Detroit Men Held for $15,000 New Tire Hijacking

Detroit, Oct. 30 (AP)—Examinations of eight men accused in the theft and sale of $15,000 worth of new automobile tires were set for November 5 after they stood mute upon arraignment this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner George M. Read.

A ninth defendant, Charles J. Giordano, 31, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of receiving stolen property and was released under $10,000 bond to await grand jury action.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Detroit police rounded the men up after an interstate shipment of tires vanished from the Caldwell Motor Freight, Inc., October 22.

The FBI alleges that the tires were placed on sale at a local tire shop, precipitating a rush of buyers for three days last week.

Accused of the theft are John J. Feuer, 22; Henry C. Hawkins, Jr., 17, and Harry S. Hawkins, 21, his brother.

Ammunition Sales Now Unrestricted

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Revocation of all controls on manufacture, delivery and sale of ammunition, effective tomorrow, was announced tonight by the War Production Board.

This authorizes unlimited sales to civilians. It sets aside quota restrictions which have been in effect for sportsmen, farmers, ranches and law enforcement officers.

WPB said it could not estimate how much additional ammunition may be available immediately as a result of the revocation.

HOLD HEARING IN BANKRUPTCY

H. C. Hayes Liabilities
Total $589,000 And Assets $5,854

The first meeting of creditors of Harold C. "Pat" Hayes of Escanaba was held here yesterday, part of the regular proceedings in bankruptcy. Hayes filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in U.

S. District Court at Marquette Oct. 3, 1945.

The petition discloses liabilities of about $589,000 and assets of about $5,854, but Hayes claims that the assets have a mortgage of $4,500 against them.

Michael F. DeFant of Negaunee was appointed acting referee in bankruptcy because of the disqualification of George C. Quinnell of Marquette, the regular referee. Quinnell was disqualified because he has filed suit against Mr. and Mrs. Hayes in behalf of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, to collect approximately $38,000 principal and interest. The suit is now pending in the federal court at Marquette.

Other creditors represented at yesterday's meeting were the Escanaba National Bank, who reported a claim of about $4,000 secured by a mortgage; and Frank C. Wells of Chicago with a claim of $19,960.

There are approximately 40 other creditors, nearly all of whom have judgements against Hayes. Most of the creditors are of Chicago, and the majority of debts are long standing, going back to as early as 1928 and 1929.

Hayes came to Escanaba from Chicago a number of years ago. Until recently he was manager of the Ludington hotel in Escanaba, and is employed there now as cook. From all evidence it was indicated that H. J. Rushton of Escanaba as trustee holds the hotel property for Hayes, and that if obligations totaling about $36,000 are paid Hayes will then receive the title to the property, according to Mr. Quinnell.

At the first meeting of the creditors yesterday, they agreed to the appointment of B. W. Hall of Escanaba as trustee, Gerald Cleary and H. C. Gerletti as appraisers.

Mr. DeFant, the acting referee, adjourned the meeting to Nov. 12 for further examination of the bankrupt, and possibly his wife. Where the next meeting will be held has not been determined, although it expected to be held either in Escanaba or Marquette.

Lawrence T. Manning of Chicago, of counsel for the RFC, also was present at the meeting.

School Executives To Attend Meeting In Marquette Nov. 2

School executives of the Upper Peninsula will attend a conference to be held at the Northern Michigan College of Education in Marquette on Friday, November 2.

The meeting has been called to provide an opportunity for superintendents, principals, teacher trainers and other educators to discuss curriculum problems, with particular emphasis on implications from G. I. education, with members of the group who took the trip to study G. I. education last summer, representatives of the armed forces, and others.

Speakers at the Marquette conference will include:

Major E. W. Zoller—Director of Training, Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Lt. P. A. Wagner—Director, Training Aids Division, Navy Pre-Commissioning Training, Newport, Rhode Island.

Commander Charles Forsythe—U. S. N. R., First Assistant in Charge of Navy Physical Training Section, Washington, D. C.

Lt. Victor Noll—U. S. N. R., Navy Training Aids Division, Washington, D. C.—Michigan State College.

Captain W. R. Dixon—Army Training Aids, New York City—University of Michigan.

Col. Clarence Owen—Michigan State Selective Service.

E. A. Jones—Chief, Vocational Rehabilitation, Veterans' Administration.

Wayne Boery—State Office of Veterans' Affairs.

Mrs. Fred Dewey, Former Escanaban, Dies In Elmhurst

Mrs. Frederic Dewey of Elmhurst, Ill., the former Catherine Jaegers of Escanaba, died at the Elmhurst hospital at 9 o'clock Sunday night.

Mrs. Dewey was born in Escanaba, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Jaegers, and resided in Elmhurst the past 20 years. She was a graduate of the Milwaukee County Hospital nursing school and took a postgraduate course at Joseph DeLee Maternity hospital. Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters and a son, Mrs. Robert Baumann, Elmhurst; Capt. Robert Dewey, serving in France; and Miss Georgia Dewey, Elmhurst; also three brothers and six sisters, Nicholas Jaegers, Kohler, Wis.; Frank and Peter Jaegers, Escanaba; Mrs. Jacob Ammel, Mrs. Paul Rademacher, Escanaba; Gertrude Jaeger, Chicago; Mrs. Roy Richard, Iron Mountain; Alice Jaegers, Watson; and Mrs. Bernice Savard, Detroit.

The body arrived yesterday and was taken to the Allo funeral home. Funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's church at 10 o'clock this morning, with Rev. Fr. Alphonse officiating. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

James Bowie of bowie knife fame hated crooked gamblers. In 1832, on the steamer New Orleans, a young man was fleeced of $45,000. Bowie stepped in, caught one of the sharpers drawing an extra ace from his sleeve, forced him to show it under threat of his knife, and took the pot with four kings. Let's Finish the Job

DELTA county's E bond quota in the Victory Loan campaign, the last of the war bond drives, is $286,000, or just 2.6 per cent of the $11,000,000 accumulated by Delta county residents in bank savings deposits. With this backlog of ready cash, plus the estimated equivalent amount in bank checking accounts, it is difficult to believe that there should be any doubt about oversubscribing the county's quota.

The United States Treasury needs the money to meet war-borne expenses. Without it, the federal treasury of the world's richest nation would be exhausted by the end of the year.

Delta county still has more than 3,000 men in service, a large percentage still overseas anxiously awaiting their return to home and family. Many of them are eligible for discharge, or soon will be, but it requires large sums of money to feed, clothe and transport them back to their loved ones. Many others will remain in occupation forces in Germany and Japan, another vitally necessary but expensive aftermath of war.

The Victory Loan is the final war loan campaign. The nation's goal is $11 billion. A grateful nation should find it comparatively easy to oversubscribe this goal. We have the money. We know the need is great.

"They finished their job—let's finish ours."

Crooning for Tolerance

APPARENTLY, there is a place in human society for Frank Sinatra and his brother crooners, after all.

White students of a Gary, Ind., high school have gone on strike a couple times during the past month, complaining that favoritism was being shown Negro pupils. Here was a problem in juvenile racial intolerance thrown into the laps of the grownups. It seems that the schools, the church and the home in Gary couldn't solve it, so a call for help was sent to "The Voice."

He accepted the invitation. Frank Sinatra, a young man of Italian parentage, probably was called a "Wop" during his boyhood days in New York. Maybe, he has felt the sting of racial prejudice, and will be able to use his priceless voice to convince Gary's bobby-soxers of the error of their ways.

Someone has said that music is an international language that can contribute much to world peace and understanding. The same goes for crooning if "The Voice" can induce the Gary students to "give" up their racial intolerance.

Citizenship in Action

GIRL SCOUT week is being observed in Escanaba and other communities of the land with appropriate activities that serve to dramatize the worth of this well-known character building organization.

Everybody talks about the responsibilities of today's young people but very few have bothered to ask the children themselves what they think about it all. The national Girl Scout organization, however, last spring asked more than a million girls and adults to list things that they wanted to do in order to become better citizens in today's changing world. On the basis of their replies, the Girl Scout program of work was formulated.

Americans who look beyond victory to lasting peace will find in the Scout organization one of the best means for building that peace. Here is an opportunity for women who have left war activities to continue the good fight. In spite of phenomenal war time growth, there are still long waiting lists of girls who want to be Scouts but who lack leaders and sponsors.

Must Report Accidents

MICHIGAN has a law that requires motorists and garages to report traffic accidents to the proper authorities, but not too much attention has been paid to the statute.

In Oklahoma, however, some thing is being done about it. Under discretionary power granted the commissioner of public safety, licenses are suspended if drivers fail to report accidents. Observance of the law has greatly improved of late in the Sooner state.

Pre-Fabricated Homes

HIGH costs that have discouraged many families from building their own homes may no longer be an obstacle if the pre-fabricated housing industry gets well under way.

And there is good reason to expect that pre-fabricated housing will get its share of the business, despite the opposition of the building trades and other interests. The reason is that big business has entered into this postwar field.

The United States Steel corporation has broken its time-honored tradition of remaining aloof from direct contact with the consuming public by purchasing Gunnison Homes, Inc., of New Albany, Ind. It will enlarge the Gunnison plant to provide a productive capacity of 1,650 houses a year.

If the Gunnison plan to build homes by the mass production technique catches the popular fancy, U. S. Steel is prepared to establish eight other plants close to the markets in various parts of the country. More uses for steel in homes are forecast as a result of Big Steel's interest in housing. Dealers for pre-fab houses will be established in various cities, where the Gunnison models will be merchandised just like automobiles. The American public will be "sold" homes in the future.

The Pace of Demobilization

GENERAL MARSHALL'S complaint that demobilization of the armed forces in the United States is developing beyond the point of national safety is apparently a move to spur action on the universal training issue. Actually, the apprehension expressed by the Army chief of staff hardly squares with the facts.

First of all, the draft procedure is continuing for the present, at least. The United States trained and equipped approximately 11,000,000 men for military service during the war and these men, in or out of service, represent a powerful immediate safeguard of the national interest.

The hundreds of thousands of men in service who have earned their discharge deserve nothing less than the speediest release possible. To insist on keeping these men in service as a lever to force national conscription is wrong. The problem is not as pressing as General Marshall presents it to be.

We will, of course, have to maintain a strong national defense which also means that we will require a larger standing army and navy than anything we possessed in the pre-war period. We shall have to maintain the draft during the demobilization period to assure adequate replacements for the soldiers who have earned and are entitled to their discharge.

It hardly seems necessary, however, to adopt universal training as a fixed peace-time policy of the United States without giving this important problem careful and deliberate consideration with the highest degree of objectivity.

WOLL'S SEAWAY CRITICISM

(Milwaukee Journal)

Matthew Woll, vice president of the AFL, has expressed his organization's opposition to the St. Lawrence seaway in a pamphlet that now is being circulated in Wisconsin.

Mr. Woll says one objection to the proposed seaway plan is that any American funds to be supplied for work in Canadian territory must be used for the employment of Canadian labor.

What would American labor say if Canadian funds, used on the American side, must be paid to Canadian labor, imported into the United States in competition with American workers?

Further objections, says Mr. Woll, are that American maritime workers would be hurt as foreign ships sailed the Great Lakes in competition with American ships; that the production of electrical power would reduce the use of American coal and thus hamper American coal miners; that the seaway would divert some rail shipments and thereby harm railway workers.

Any major increase in maritime activity on the Great Lakes ought to help rather than injure American maritime workers. If actual seamen suffered from competition—which we doubt—what about American shipyard workers, dock workers, harbor workers and many others? Clearly, they would find new and more jobs, wholly under American standards and labor agreements.

As for electrical power: If coal operators, and thereby miners, should lose some outlets for their products or energies, electrical workers would find new opportunities.

The coal argument won't impress many Americans who have, for some years, been unable to get enough coal for their own needs, due to exports, strikes or other causes.

Rail shipments evidently would not be curtailed as great cargoes were brought into and out of Great Lakes ports. These cargoes merely would be routed from and to other markets rather than into and out of a few Atlantic seaboard ports.

PETRILO FIRES A SALVO

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

Three popular radio programs have been kept off the air within about two weeks by ukase of James Caesar Petrillo, American Federation of Musicians president. The union had no controversy with either N. B. C. or C. B. S., the networks concerned, or with the sponsors of the programs. Its quarrel in each case was with two or three small independent stations. Trying to bring pressure on them by cutting off programs enjoyed by millions over the country is roughly equivalent to shooting at a squirrel with a 16-inch naval gun.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—President Truman's Navy Day speech was an honest affirmation of the objectives of American foreign policy. Because it added little that was new, it is hard to see why it was given so much advanced billing as the most important utterance of President's six months in office.

The day before the President spoke, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin made a speech in the House of Commons that came a lot closer to the realities of the moment.

He pointed to the disaster that faces the United Nations relief and reconstruction administration unless there is quick action by Congress to replenish its funds.

The people of Europe are hungry. They will soon be in the midst of another winter of despair and uncertainty. People who are hungry and cold cannot be interested in world cooperation.

It has for them a theoretical, a far-off sound. They want food for their children and at least enough heat to cut down the appalling rate of disease of the winter of 1944-45.

—CONGRESS STALLS—
Congress has stalled shamefully on the appropriation of the funds that UNRRA desperately needs. This has been handled as a routine matter, as though the lives of millions did not depend on action as quickly as possible.

The immediate issue before Congress is an appropriation for $550,000,000, which has already been authorized. The money is needed to keep the flow of supplies going. If there is too much delay, the flow of food in the UNRRA pipeline will be interrupted.

These are critical days for UNRRA. The army is getting rid of vast hoards including, particularly, ready-prepared rations for men in the field that were not used during the war. These are food bargains that UNRRA must be prepared to take advantage of.

The chairman of the House Appropriations committee that has dangled so long on this vital issue is Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri, Truman's home state. The UNRRA deficiency bill has been handled by Cannon's committee purely as a routine matter.

Here is a question of the President's leadership in Congress. Words are not enough, no matter how earnest and sincere the words are.

—CATERS TO CONGRESS—
President Truman has shown a scrupulous desire not to interfere with the working of Congress. But on matters that vitally concern the policies he is trying to shape, he must assert his leadership. The alternative is to accept ultimate defeat growing out of drift, indifference and confusion.

The administration has shown a curious eagerness to throw off all wartime restrictions in this country. We are constantly being told that we are to have more butter and meat. This, in the face of starving Europe.

What makes it harder to understand is that there is repeated evidence of popular support for a policy of feeding Europe. On the one hand is the deep humanitarian impulse which, in spite of all the cynicism and the corrosive violence sweeping across the world, is still a real thing.

On the other hand is the desire of producers to avoid a glutted market for their produce. Already, with the declining purchasing power in this country, there is concern on that score. Farmers can foresee the time when warehouses will be filled to overflowing with food for which there will be no outlet.

In Iowa, which is a Republican state in the heart of a region often called isolationist, polls have several times shown a considerable majority of farmers concerned with continuing outlets for their produce or an expression of the American conscience, it is a political reality that leadership could build on.

The time is so very short. The ominous black headlines that will reflect Europe's travail this winter are already on the horizon. We cannot expect the world to be impressed by our good intentions, no matter how earnestly expressed by our President, unless we move quickly to implement them.

mountain.
(Will my readers please stop needing old Doc S.? It upsets his professional equilibrium. All he does these days is to sit around muttering Sanscrit swear-words in his long white beard, and threatening to go back to his old job at Snafu University, where he used to be Professor of English.)

From Mrs. H. L. B., Russellville, Kentucky: According to an article I once read, Cinderella's famous slipper was not glass. The story came from France, and some early translator mistook the French "vair," ermine, for "verre," meaning "glass."

Answer: Correct. The popular English version is a translation of "Cendrillon," by Charles Perrault (1628-1703). In his story, the slipper which Cendrillon (Cinderella) dropped on the palace stairs was "une pantoufle en vair," or a slipper of squirrel's fur. The translator mistook "vair" for "verre," meaning glass, since the words are pronounced the same, to rhyme with "fair." So, Cinderella's dancing little feet were more comfortable than "une pantoufle en verre" (a slipper of glass) suggests.

Incidentally, the French share some of our difficulties because of unphonetic spelling: there are six words in French pronounced "vair." They are: "vair," squirrel's fur; "ver," worm; "verre," glass; "vers," verse; "vers," toward; "vert," green.

I learned this little jingle as a boy:
Un vert ver
Dans un vert verre.
(A green worm
In a green glass.)

MUDDLE IN TAXES—Michigan at the state level is currently passing through a muddled period as a program for a more uniform and equitable property taxation is being worked out. This confusion at the state level is reflected in the counties, the cities, townships and other taxing units.

Belatedly Michigan is attempting to bring its taxing program up to date, and perhaps we might charitably say the present confusion is an indication of growing pains.

Most confusing at the moment is the controversy between the state tax commission and the attorney general's office. The attorney general early this year issued an opinion in which it was stated that townships and school districts could levy taxes on the assessed valuation of property as equalized.

More recently the attorney general reversed this opinion and ruled that only county taxes could be levied on assessed valuation as equalized, while the townships and schools could levy taxes only on the valuation as assessed.

—DECISION AWAITED—The state tax commission in its co-operative work with the counties had made studies and recommendations for the counties on the basis of the original opinion. When that opinion was reversed it left the commission in the uncomfortable position of having advised wrongly, and with much work to undo that had already been done.

Now a decision in the matter is awaited from the supreme court, which has promised speedy action.

—ITS EFFECT HERE—The decision of the supreme court will be extremely important, financially, to the school districts and townships.

As it is now and was in the past, the school and township taxes were levied on the assessed valuation. That is, on the property valuation figures established by the township or city assessor and boards of review.

To obtain the equalized valuation figure, the county board of supervisors at its equalization session in June goes over the valuation figures as reported by the townships and cities and establishes equalized valuation figures for county tax purposes.

Usually the county board increased the valuation figures from the townships and cities to arrive at the equalized figure for the county.

If school and township taxes also could be levied on the higher equalized valuations they would have a considerably larger sum in tax revenue. This factor is not too important to the townships, but it could provide additional funds for school districts, many of which have a difficult time finding teachers at the low prevailing wage scale.

Most of the townships, however, are little in need of additional funds. Some levy no tax at all for township purposes, having sufficient revenue from liquor license fees and the intangible tax.

—SCHOOLS DEPENDENT—The schools have no part in the assessing, valuation, equalization of property, or the levying of taxes. They are dependent on the assessor, the boards of review and the county tax allocation commission. Their only influence is through representation on the tax allocation commission.

The township or city board of review, however, which may wish to be penurious with the schools, can establish assessed valuation figures which can keep the schools close to the line of actual poverty.

The county board of supervisors can change these assessed figures to provide the county with more tax revenue, but it has no authority to change them for the benefit of the schools or the townships. It is for this reason the schools have so much at stake in the pending supreme court decision. For if the supreme court says the schools and townships, as well as the county, levy their taxes on the equalized figure, they will then have the same level of tax revenue opportunity as the county.

ESCANABA THE SAME—In Escanaba the schools have this same tax level because of the preparatory work done by the city board of review. The assessed valuation figure reported to the county board was sufficiently high that the board adopted the same figure for county tax purposes.

ON THOSE APPEALS—A minor revolution in assessment and equalization is now under way at the county as well as the state level. Delta county this year is the first in the history of the state to hire experts to make reappraisal of property values, based on a uniform and equitable schedule.

The county tax allocation commission's tax rates for the county, the schools and townships has been appealed from by the county, and a state tax commission hearing will be held soon on the appeal.

The state tax commission also is out to hear an appeal from equalized values on property as established by the county board for county tax purposes.

Out of all this controversy will come a more modern, fair and equitable system of property taxation.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Inside the closed-door sessions of the Allied economic directorate in Berlin history seems to be repeating itself. It was Britain's defense of Germany after the last war which played such a big part in the removal of the Allied control commission and the gradual rebuilding of Germany.

Britain was then following her time-honored balance-of-power policy of jockeying France against Germany. The secret debates in Berlin show that this policy was not changed, except that she is now balancing Germany off against Russia with U. S. delegates generally siding with the British.

Here are verbatim excerpts from the secret Allied debates taken from the Berlin economic meetings of October 10. The meeting began with a plea by Britain's Sir Percy Mills that the Allies import coal and building materials to aid Germany. He spoke with considerable vigor and feeling—so much so that the French delegate, M. Sergeant, took exception.

"Let me remind you," he said, "that the French have a far greater claim to building materials. We too need coal. There has been absolutely no activity in building construction in France for five years."

The Frenchman proposed that a survey of the building situation be made by the economic directorate, and this was finally agreed.

The Russian delegate, General Shabalin, was then asked if he could not persuade the Poles to export coal to Germany. "I am in no position to speak for the Polish government," he replied. "Poland can decide for herself whether she has any coal to spare for her old enemy."

"Besides," continued the Red Army officer, "why don't the British send over some coal, since Sir Percy is so worried about the state of health of the German people?"

—RUSSIAN NOT SYMPATHETIC—
French delegate Sergeant next raised the question of importing oil into Germany from Russia. This had been recommended by the U. S. government, and, carrying out this recommendation, General Draper turned to General Shabalin and asked his government to approach Austria, Hungary and Rumania regarding the sale of oil to Germany.

General Draper made quite a strong plea, pointing out that Germany's need of oil was serious. Sir Percy Mills backed him up, suggesting that Russia might either borrow or buy the oil from Austria, Rumania and Hungary.

General Shabalin, however, was not sympathetic. "I was not at Potsdam," he replied, "and don't know from personal knowledge what was decided there. Also I don't know how much oil Austria, Hungary and Rumania have to export."

"I must further remind you that these countries have their own governments and Austria and Hungary have their own control council."

The then Russian general expressed great amazement at the ingenuity of General Draper.

"The American delegate," he said, "wants Russia to pay with oil for the 15 per cent of reparations which the Russians are supposed to receive under the Potsdam agreement."

Looking at Draper, a former partner in the Wall Street firm of Dillon Reed, the Russian continued:

"Tell me General, how much has the Soviet Union received in reparations? As far as I know we have not received a single solitary cent. So when we have not received anything from Germany why should we send good money after bad, by now supplying Germany with oil? Since the Soviet doesn't know when the Soviet will get anything from reparations, why shouldn't Germany in the meantime try to help herself?"

"For instance, Germany makes excellent Diesel oil and benzine," Shabalin went on. "Why shouldn't the German production be increased? Why should Russia borrow from neighboring countries instead?"

General Draper then called upon Sir Percy to supply the figures on Germany's oil production, which showed a deficit for the coming year 1946 of 727,000 tons. Briefly scribbling on a piece of paper, General Shabalin estimated that the British and American governments wanted Russia to supply 7,000 tons of oil per day.

"If we are able to do this," he asked, "will the British and American governments help us find the transportation? The Soviet Union has neither the rail nor water transportation to perform this task."

In the case of oil for Germany, the French delegate strongly supported Britain and the United States. So finally, at the persistent urging of both General Draper and M. Sergeant, General Shabalin agreed to discuss the matter with Moscow.

The French delegate then took up the question of destroying all of Hitler's chemical warfare plants. He first submitted the report of the committee on war potential which was a compromise view, and asked that the Allied representatives comment on it. General Shabalin immediately commented that the report was meaningless and the Potsdam agreement provided for the complete destruction of all German chemical warfare facilities. "Personally I would suggest that the control start immediately to burn, destroy or sink all Nazi means of chemical warfare," grunted the Red General.

On this for the first time there seems to be complete Allied unity. After a short debate it was agreed that the compromise report be sent back to the committee on war potential with instructions to be specific and precise about eliminating, once and for all, all chemical warfare facilities in Germany.

New York bakers have asked for more dough—which might come under the head of give and take.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. Is it compulsory that a serviceman take out the life insurance offered by the Government?

A. No.

Q. May a veteran discharged from the service by reason of the dependency of his mother be entered in a course of education or training under the G. I. Bill?

A. Yes. If the veteran is otherwise entitled, the fact that he was discharged from the service because of the dependency of his mother would not be material.

Q. Are veterans of World War II entitled to special privileges under the homestead laws of the United States?

A. Yes. Any honorably discharged veteran with 30 days or more military service who makes a homestead entry, is entitled to have the term of his service in the Army or Navy, not exceeding 2 years, deducted from the 3 years' residence required under the homestead laws.

OF GENERAL INTEREST
Q. Why is the cost of a civilian jeep so much higher than the pre-war selling price of light passenger cars?

A. The retail ceiling price for the civilian jeep is $1,090, f.o.b. Toledo, Ohio, plus taxes and the customary trade additions for transportation, handling, and optional equipment. Its ceiling prices is somewhat higher than the prewar selling price of light passenger cars, because the civilian jeep basically is not a light passenger car but rather a four-wheel-drive ½ ton truck designed for utility trucking and farm and country use.

Q. How many radios will be built this year?

A. War Production Board estimates indicate that about 3,500,000 may be manufactured before the year ends.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN
Q. Why are eggs so scarce? Last year there were so many there wasn't enough space to store them.

A. The per capita egg supply for 1945 is 25 per cent above the pre-war supply, but for the first few months of this year consumption was at the rate of about 400 eggs per person a year—a consumption rate beyond our egg supplies. The increased demand for eggs is due to the meat shortage and higher incomes of consumers.

Q. Should surplus food be removed from the aquarium?

A. Remove any surplus food before it decays, using a glass dip tube, or siphon out with a small rubber hose.

Capt. Wally Arntzen Is Returning Home

Grenier Field Separation Center—Capt. Walter Arntzen, chief pilot with the North Atlantic Wing of the Air Transport Command, received his separation papers today at Manchester, N. H.

Flying over every corner of the world, he has ferried planes to hard-pressed combat units overseas, evacuated the wounded from Paris to hospitals in the States and returned, by air, many weary soldiers from the fighting front of Europe.

One of his most important assignments was that of flying key personnel and equipment to the Far East to make ready the first B-29 strikes against Japan. He has made over sixty trans-Atlantic flights and wears the Air Medal and the European, Asiatic, Pacific and American Theater Ribbons.

Prior to his entry into the service in January 1942 Capt. Arntzen owned and operated a flying business in Escanaba, to which he intends to return after a brief rest.

He is married and has one child.

Nahma Boy Scouts Build Log Cabin

Boy Scouts of Nahma under the direction of James Roddy and Al Hescott, Scoutmasters, are working on a project of woodcraft exhibiting the training they have received. It is the construction of a log cabin, which will in time be used as a meeting place of the Scouts occasionally as they take part in woodcraft and nature activities of the Troop.

The cabin is a ten by ten structure with a wing ten by twelve. The structure is entirely made of pine logs which the Scouts have assembled. The cabin is complete with windows, beds, pine floor, and heating equipment.

Entrance to the cabin is over several spots containing water, bridges have been constructed according to Scout specifications bridging the water. The trail is well marked with Scout trail signs.

The project has taken some time, but shows great effort and skill. Those interested in such Scoutcraft are invited to view the craftsmanship.

According to an estimate by the Automotive Council for War Production, farm products from a half million acres are used in the building of a million automobiles.

COD LIVER OIL AID TO HEALTH

Contribution To Victory Fund Supplies Oil For Children

Included among the local services derived from the Delta County Victory Fund is the financing of the Cod Liver Oil Fund which supplies cod liver oil to children in the city and county who would otherwise not be able to receive its health-giving benefits.

Cod liver oil prevents rickets, a disease of infancy and childhood, which is characterized by the failure of deposition of calcium salts in the growing skeleton. This failure of deposition of calcium salts in the bony structures of the body results in skeletal weakness and deformities of various kinds. The disease occurs when there is an inadequate ingestion of Vitamin D or an inadequate exposure to sunlight.

Through money made available from the Victory Fund to the Escanaba lay health committee, one hundred-ten gallons of a superior grade of cod liver oil were purchased. Mrs. C. L. Riegel, chairman, and the members of the lay health committee voluntarily bottled this cod liver oil under sterile conditions. Their services were donated and the bottling was done as a community service by the lay health committee.

This bottled cod liver oil is available free of charge at the Delta County Health Department to individuals who otherwise could not include this important body builder in their family budget.

Since the Northern Peninsula receives only forty-per cent of the total quota of sunshine, one teaspoon of this cod liver oil once a day will help to replace this loss according to health authorities.

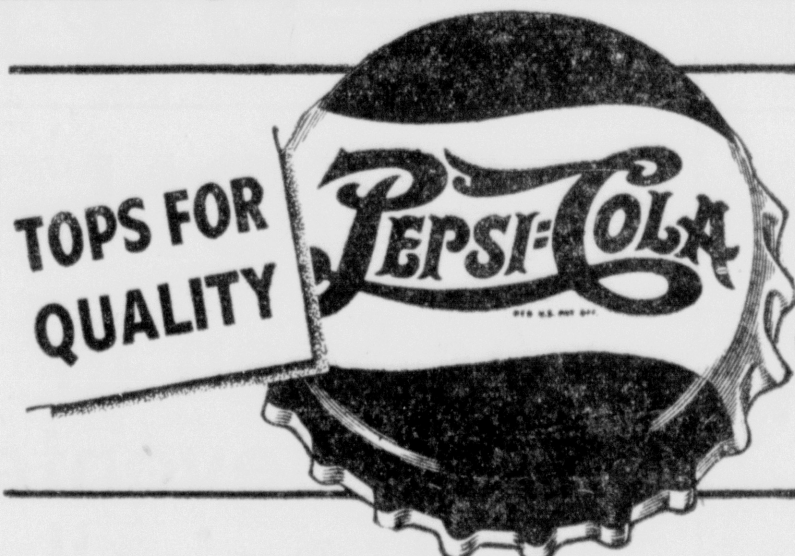

Other members of the lay health committee assisting Mrs. Riegel in bottling the cod liver oil were Mrs. L. A. Winling, Sr., Mrs. L. A. Winling, Jr., Mrs. Fred Weissert and Mrs. Robert Rouse. A total of 792 bottles were filled from the 110-gallon drum of oil.

KEEP ROLLING LONGER
Mr. Motorist—
WE'LL SHOW YOU HOW!

No new cars are coming off the assembly lines these days. Tanks, guns, and planes have the right of way—and your car cannot be replaced. So you've got to make that car last . . . much longer than in the old days. And it can be done! Listen to what the auto experts say . . .

SERVICE! It's a magic word and it happens to be our middle name. For here at your Cities Service Station you'll find the right facilities, the famous automotive products, and the indispensable "know-how" that will send your car onto the highway chock-full of new life and energy.

You can give your car an extra year of lively, youthful performance—if you give it the right service.

Treat your car to a new lease on life. Drive in to see us . . . today!

CISCO SOLVENT . . . A complete internal bath for your engine. By cleaning out sludge, gum, dirt and varnish, it helps restore youthful pep and power to your car.

CITIES SERVICE PETROLEUM PRODUCTS . . . "Sure-Fire" Kool-motor gasoline, heat-proved Cities Service Koolmotor and Cities Service Motor Oils, Trojan lubricants and other proved Cities Service Products . . . all important factors in the program of youth-giving service for your car.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN PROFIT BY UNCLE SAM'S EXPERIENCE!

Here's a success story of a famous Cities Service product—CISCO SOLVENT—which should be of great interest to you. For it points the way to better, more efficient performance for your car!

It cleans the engine internally—gets into every joint and crevice where harmful gum and sludge collect . . . and removes every bit of harmful dirt! The result: new vigor, new pep and power restored to a tired, sluggish motor.

This is how it happened. A small quantity of CISCO SOLVENT was ordered by the Army for experimental use on the trucks and transport vehicles of a military camp in the South. CISCO SOLVENT was put through every conceivable test—and came out with flying colors! Since then, Cities Service has sent more than 12,000 gallons of CISCO SOLVENT to this camp alone.

Why not profit by Uncle Sam's experience? Find out what this internal engine cleaner can do to bring new life to your road-weary engine. You'll be amazed at how thoroughly it cleans the engine, the transmission, and the differential—and prolongs the life of all moving parts.

We'll be glad to give you a demonstration of CISCO SOLVENT's remarkable cleansing powers. Drive in to see us . . . today!

Elaine Wickert, William P. Sovey Are Married Here

Elaine Margaret Wickert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Leisner, 1825 Ludington street, and William P. Sovey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Sovey, 329 North 13th street, were married at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in a high nuptial mass celebrated by Rev. Fr. Norbert Freiburger.

Mrs. W. P. Ramspeck was organist and at the offertory Mrs. William Kress sang Schubert's "Ave Maria." The altar was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns.

Mrs. Edward L. Murphy, Jr., sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Clarence E. Sovey, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride was attractive in a wedding gown of white slipper satin, with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline, and long fitted sleeves forming a point, a full skirt which extended in a graceful train. She wore a fingertip veil of tulle, gathered to tiera of pearls and she carried an all white shower bouquet. A single strand of pearls completed the bridal costume.

The bridesmaid wore a dress of lime green silk jersey, with three quarter length sleeves and shirred bodice. She wore a matching hat of feathers. Her flowers were bronze and yellow pompons.

The mother of the bride wore a teal blue dress with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua dress with brown accessories and she also wore a gardenia corsage.

Wedding breakfast for immediate members of the families was served at the Sherman Hotel after which a reception for 50 guests was held at the home of the bride. The table was decorated with a centerpiece of chrysanthemums and featuring a three tiered wedding cake.

After the reception the couple left on a motor trip for an unannounced destination. For going away, the bride wore a tomato red gabardine suit, with black accessories. They will make their home in Waukesha, Wisconsin.

The bride was graduated from the Escanaba high school in 1940 and later attended Miss Brown's business school in Milwaukee. She is employed at the Waukesha State Bank. The bridegroom was graduated from the Escanaba high school in 1938 and served in the army signal corps for three and a half years, three years overseas in England, Ireland, Holland, Belgium and Germany.

Schoolcraft County Took Many Honors At Upper Peninsula Potato Show

Schoolcraft county fared exceedingly well at the recently held Upper Peninsula Potato Show at Menominee, according to a report issued the first of the week by Joseph Heirman, county agent.

This very satisfactory showing was particularly true in the case of 4-H club growers who had entered the club competition. Dick Demars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Demars of Cooks, was the outstanding winner in the juvenile class having won the 4-H club U. P. contest with a yield of 421 bushels of potatoes per acre. This is the highest 4-H club yield in the Upper Peninsula. He will be awarded a suitable trophy by the Upper Peninsula Potato Growers Association.

Further honors will be sought at the State Potato Show which will be held some time in February in conjunction with Farmers Week at East Lansing. Twenty samples were picked from Schoolcraft county and sent down to Lansing to be entered in the contest. Ten of these samples were from the best submitted by 4-H club growers and the remaining samples by leading adult growers from here.

Beside Dick Demars the following 4-H club growers of Schoolcraft county won in Menominee: Growers of White Rurals—Donald Tennant, Manistique 2, first; Wilbert Tanguay, Cooks, second; Jack Tennant, Manistique 2, third; Herome Allen, Manistique 2, third.

Rural Russets—Jean Winkel, meeting at the home of Tillie Nielson at Gulliver, Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

St. Alban's Church—There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 9:30 a. m. Thursday morning, All Saints Day, in St. Alban's Episcopal church.

Cooks, first; Dick Demars, Cooks, second; John Oberg, Manistique 2, second; Edmund Popour, Cooks, second; Norman Siddall, Cooks, second; Melvin Siddall, Cooks, third.

Adult winners at the show from Schoolcraft county were: Certified Bushel—James Wieland, Russet Rurals, first; William Wieland, Russet Rurals, third; Russell Tennant, White Rurals, third; John Tennant, White Rurals, third; Maynard Blandford, White Rurals, fourth. All reside on Route 2, Manistique.

32 Open Class—James Wieland, Russet Rurals, first; William Wieland, Russet Rurals, second; Russell Tennant, White Rurals, first; John Tennant, White Rurals, second; Maynard Blandford, White Rurals, third; John Tanguay, fourth. All these growers with the exception of Tanguay reside on Manistique, Route 2. He lives at Cooks.

Tablestock — Leland Pawley, Gulliver, Russet Rurals, second; Reinhardt Matchinski, Manistique 2, third.

Impressive Ceremony
Marks Installation
Of Officers

At a beautiful and impressive ceremony, Mrs. Lydia Bouschor was installed as Worthy Matron of Eastern Star, Monday evening together with other newly elected and appointive officers.

For the installation services, Mrs. Ruby Nicholson acted as installing officer, Mrs. Muriel Cookson, installing Marshall; Mrs. Benda Hough, installing Chaplain, and Mrs. Muriel Bystrom of Newberry, Michigan, formerly organist of Grand Chapter, as installing organist.

Mrs. Bouschor was escorted to her newly elected office by her husband, preceded by her two young sons who presented her with lovely bouquets of red roses. Mrs. Viola Morton then sang "Our Prayers for You," retiring Worthy Matron, requested Mrs. Bouschor to accompany her thru "Life's True Garden." At various stations small bouquets of flowers were presented to her by the newly appointive officers and words of encouragement, love and cheer were expressed by the retiring officers, Margaret Olson; Dorothy Carlson; Alma Bundy Dorothy Lindquist and Mrs. Chas. Hancock. At the end of the journey, Mrs. Viola Morton sang, "In the Garden." Miss Winnifred Orr, then presented the Worthy Matron with yellow roses expressing the sincere wishes to both her and the Worthy Patron from the members of the Chapter.

Mrs. Hildreth Taylor, retiring Worthy Matron, was then given due recognition and various gifts were presented to her. She responded graciously and Mrs. Viola Morton rendered the solo: "Home".

Carlson-Lusic
Miss Eleanor Marie Carlson, Gladstone, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Carlson, Rock, and Francis Anthony Lusic, 1708 Minnesota avenue, city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Lusic, city, were united in marriage at a nuptial mass at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in St. Joseph's Catholic church at Perkins.

Celebrant of the mass and reading the wedding vows was the Rev. Fr. Alphons Coignard. Present in the sanctuary during the mass and ceremonies were the Rev. Fr. Roland Dion, Schaffer, and the Rev. Fr. George Dion, missionary but recently returned from the Philippines. The altar was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums and baby mums. The traditional wedding march was played by the organist before and after the mass.

Attending the couple were Miss Fanny Lusic, sister of the groom, and Clifford Carlson, brother of the bride.

The bride was charming in a suit of gold wool trimmed in brown and her accessories were of brown. Her attendant was attired in brown and her accessories were of brown hue.

Mrs. Carlson, mother of the bride, was dressed in black and wore black accessories while Mrs. Lusic, mother of the groom was attired in lavender with black accessories.

A wedding dinner was served at the Log Cabin for immediate members of the two families and a reception was held in the afternoon at the home of the bride's mother in Rock.

The couple left later for a wedding trip to Chicago and points south. For her going-away outfit the bride chose a green suit with brown accessories. Upon their return the couple will make their home at 1304 Lake Shore Drive, Gladstone.

The bride is a graduate of Rock high school, Class of 1938, of the U. P. Beauty Academy and for several years has operated the Rialto Beauty Shoppe. The groom attended All Saints' parochial and the Gladstone public schools. During the war he served as a sergeant in the Army Air Corps and was a waist gunner on a Flying Fortress until shot down over Germany and taken prisoner.

Attending the service from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Flizkowski, Chicago; Mrs. Dion of Boston; Mrs. Mayme Hall and the Rev. Fr. Roland Dion of Schaffer; the Rev. Fr. George Dion, and Miss Mary Jane DeCramer of Green Bay.

First Reports On Victory Fund Drive
Prove Encouraging

"The first returns from the Community Chest and Victory Fund drive indicate that Gladstone will meet its quota of $6,750," reports A. Theodore Sohler, chairman of the local committee. "We think our people realize that for thousands of young men and women in the armed services the war is not yet over, and that they are entitled to everything we can possibly give them in entertainment wherever they may be. The United Service Organizations activities are so extensive and far-reaching that almost every service man or woman has received some benefit from them at one time or another."

"Out of the Victory Fund proceeds nearly 70 per cent is allocated to relief organizations whose mission it is to relieve the suffering of the innocent people whose homes have been destroyed and who suffer every form of privation which is the aftermath of war."

A total of approximately $1,000 has been reported in to date.

Rose Bowl Decision Up To West Point Academy Officials

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Whether Army's powerful football team plays in the Rose Bowl this New Year's Day is strictly a decision for West Point officials to make.

The war department made that clear today when asked about reports from Los Angeles that participation in the west coast contest has been sanctioned—if Army is invited.

Since no one in the war department said the Cadets would not be allowed to make the trip, this attitude was seen as adding to its possibility.

The treasury department, meanwhile, displayed interest in Army's appearance in the Pasadena, Calif., game as a possible clean-up feature of the $11,000,000,000 final War Loan drive, scheduled to end December 8. Last year's Army-Navy game in Baltimore was a bond affair.

Maj. Gen. Max Taylor, superintendent of the Academy, reportedly had "no comment" at West Point.

The Los Angeles Examiner previously said that General Taylor promised the Cadets they could go to the Rose Bowl if (1) they receive an invitation; (2) they finish the season undefeated.

Pennsylvania Guard Wins Week's Honors

BY TED MEIER
New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Joe Dickerson, 25-year-old guard for the University of Pennsylvania, won this week's Associated Press poll as the "lineman of the week" for his outstanding play against Navy on Saturday.

Thus for the third straight week a guard has been named for this honor. Last week it was Tom Hughes, of Purdue, and the week before Warren Ameling, of Ohio State.

Dickerson, who lives within a trolley ride of Franklin Field, recovered four of Navy's seven fumbles and was the player mainly responsible for stalling Navy's running attack. The Midships had to take to the air to win in the last 25 seconds.

The list of linemen nominated this week included:

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The western division of the National Professional football league was tossed into a merry old scramble Sunday when the Philadelphia Eagles scored a surprising 28 to 14 victory over the Cleveland Rams. The result of that game, coupled with victories by Green Bay and Detroit, left three teams tied for leadership in the western division—Cleveland, Detroit and Green Bay. Next Sunday the Packers will meet the Bears at Chicago and then will get a second shot at the Rams in Cleveland Nov. 11. Their remaining games are at Boston Nov. 18 at New York Nov. 25 and at Detroit Dec. 2.

Sammy Baugh, the slingshot star of the Washington Redskins, is at the peak of his football career after nine years of professional competition, according to Coach Steve Owen, of the New York Giants. And Owen should know from sad experience. Last Sunday Baugh pitched 23 passes against the Giants and 19 were completed, two of them for touchdowns. For the season, Baugh has completed 61 passes in 89 attempts for 707 yards gained and a 685 average. In contrast, Sid Luckman, the quarterback star of the Chicago Bears, has completed 53 out of 100 aerials for a 530 average.

Slingin' Sam isn't the only old timer who is burning up the professional league this season. The old reliable Don Hutson of the Packers is accomplishing feats of wizardry on the gridiron that amaze even the veteran fans who have become more or less expert in the craft of Green Bay hero. No man in the history of football has done as much for any team as Hutson has done for the Packers. Undoubtedly Hutson has been sincere in his plans for retirement but the Green Bay fans just won't let him quit while he still retains the craftsmanship that has brand-ed him as the greatest football star of all time.

If the officials called all the interference fouls that are committed against Indomitable Don the Packers would march right down the field on penalties alone. He is bushwhacked on virtually every play with the hope that he will be crippled, or at least slowed down to the point where his opponents will have a better chance to keep it under control. Despite all that, Hutson bounces back to snatch seemingly impossible catches. He is, in truth, the indispensable man as far as the Packers are concerned.

Hunting And Fishing

I WANT SOME LAKE SHORE PROPERTY

I'm getting too many letters from writers who say "I want a piece of lake shore property, Sid. Will you please tell me on what lake I should buy some frontage?" These letters sort of put me on the spot.

Even if I had the time, which I haven't to answer these letters in my pick-and-hunt-system of writing on the typewriter, this is not the method for a purchaser to use. He who wishes lake front property should go right to the source.

To me, the source would be the real estate dealer in my own home town. I'd sit down with him and say "Tom, I want to buy some lake frontage. I'd like it in good deer country, partridge country and the lake should have or be near good muskie water."

Or you might be one who would say, "Tom, I want some lake frontage where I can bring the family. As long as the lake has some good pan fishing, a good bathing beach and is not too far from home, I'll be satisfied." Then your own real estate man will get in touch with those who specialize in lake and stream property.

In this manner you will soon have a fair number of listings

Navy And Notre Dame To Put On Real Scrap

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Navy, which has been playing its football under the raps of the critics, and Notre Dame, which the critics think has been playing under wraps, meet next Saturday in a game which offers a strange parallel to their contest of last year.

That is, a Navy team which has been wheezing and spluttering and hiccuping its way along will be taking on a team which, with the exception of its opening game, has won so convincingly and with such comparatively little effort that the fans are under the impression from any county in the state which you may prefer for location. You can then buy a map of that county for 10 to 25 cents. This will show you the roads to your lake, the nearest village, town or city and the location of the railroad stations.

The literature of the real estate dealer and the advertising from the county clerk of that county will give you much information. The real estate man will tell you how many cottages are on that lake and their approximate cost. Those who like many neighbors will buy on a well populated lake.

Those who prefer the "wild and woolly" will select frontage which will give them the solitude and the hunting they wish. Some may prefer buying a shack, cottage or fine summer home ready to move into and these too are listed. With this information one will have a good start.

There are some hazards in buying lake shore frontage, but we will discuss those in the next article. The main thing is to get those listings this fall and winter. Then when the snow is off the ground, take the family with you on an inspection tour.

Along about Decoration Day is a good time for that inspection trip. Be sure and take along a few mason jars to take a sample of water home from each lake. Anyone who bought a piece of lake frontage without knowing what sort of water is in that lake is just as foolish as a man who would buy a farm without knowing what sort of soil was on the land.

We'll talk about that in the next article.

Small Pores Make Good Egg Shells

Ithaca, N. Y.—Scientists have found that the shell of the average hen's egg has about 8,000 pores or tiny holes in it. However, there is a great variation in the number and size of these pores. The best egg shells are the ones with a large number of small pores—so small that the escape of gases is difficult and evaporation is slow. Poor shells have fewer pores, but several large ones that make evaporation more rapid. Investigators at several experiment stations have demonstrated that these differences in shell quality are inherited.

Workers in the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry at Beltsville found that more broken eggs occur among those with poor shell quality. However, by using the progeny test method of breeding, they were able to improve egg shell quality considerably. Hens were selected as breeders whose eggs showed the least egg weight loss during the first 14 days of incubation.

Munising News

Two Munising Boys Face Charges Of Automobile Thefts

Munising—A trail of automobile thefts leading from Munising to Marquette was believed cleared by Sheriff William E. Miron of Delta county Tuesday with the arrest at Menominee of Ronald Taylor and Donald Hayes of Munising.

The youths had been sought by police of the Upper Peninsula after the theft Saturday afternoon in Munising of a car belonging to William Bauman. The auto was parked in front of the hospital. It was found Sunday near Rapid River where it had been abandoned after a bearing burned out. Taylor had been lodged in the county jail since he and Hayes stole a car belonging to Howard Merrill in September and drove it to St. Ignace. He had been allowed access of the courthouse yard and was to be taken to the state reformatory at Lansing on Monday. Hayes has been on probation since the theft of Merrill's car.

The youths first went to Marquette where they drove into a gas station and told the woman who waited on them to fill the tank. When the tank was nearly filled with gas it pulled away from the station, nearly taking the hose pump with it. The station owner reported it at once to the state police who trailed the two boys nearly to Rapid River but were unable to catch them. Another car was stolen at Bark River and still another in the Twin Cities.

Ration Board Office Closes In Munising

Munising — The Alger county war price and ration board office that has been maintained in the Cowell building for the past several years will be formally closed Oct. 31.

Notice was received here a month ago that the Alger board would be consolidated with the Marquette board on Nov. 1, due to the fact that so many materials have been taken off the ration list that it would be more economical to consolidate the two boards.

The price control panel board will continue to operate here and will meet as usual once a month with the chief clerk from the Marquette board. Tire applications can be mailed to the county clerk's office in care of the courthouse, Munising, and they will be acted on by the Alger board and sent to Marquette. Other applications such as for sugar and other rationed articles will have to be mailed to Marquette.

Miss Lyle LaMouria, who has been chief clerk since the resignation of Thomas Walters, will go to Manistiquette where she has accepted a position with the U. S. Unemployment Service. Miss Judith Berg, who has also served at the ration office, has accepted a position in Dr. Brasier's office.

Elks Leader Sees Great Future For Free Philippines

The people of the Philippines look confidently toward the future and are making tremendous efforts to carry on despite the fact that they are extremely handicapped, Thomas J. Wolff, Elks War Commission representative in the Philippines and chairman of the Philippine Red Cross, told executive members of the Elks War Commission, according to a communication received by N. T. Stephenson, Exalted Ruler, Escanaba Lodge No. 354.

Mr. Wolff, who was interned at San Tomas prison camp from Jan. 6, 1942, until July 3, 1945, recently completed arrangements for the rebuilding of the Elks' Manila Lodge and reactivation of the Philippine Red Cross with members of the Elks War Commission in New York and American Red Cross leaders in Washington. He said that the entire Philippine reconstruction program hinges on the rapid availability of building materials which must at present be obtained on priority from the United States.

Discussing the rebuilding of the Elks' Manila Lodge, Mr. Wolff, who is a past exalted ruler, said, "The 81 room building which housed many resident members was completely destroyed. The Elks' War Commission, which has already spent $100,000 in repatriating internee members, will render assistance in the reconstruction of the building."

Along with the rebuilding of the lodge, Mr. Wolff revealed that a Fraternal Center, comprising overnight accommodations for 300 servicemen, a restaurant and recreational facilities, has already been opened and is in partial operation in Manila.

The Navy is also constructing shelters on the site of Mr. Wolff's home and these will be run as auxiliaries of the Fraternal Center.

Shark-Repelling Chemical Produced

Gloucester, Mass.—The shark-repelling chemical which was developed during the war to save the limbs and lives of "dunked" flyers and sailors promises to be a major money-saver to commercial fishermen. A test made at the suggestion of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service by the mackerel seiner Angie and Florence, operating out of this port, showed that it was effective in keeping these toothy raiders away from a large net full of mackerel, saving both fish and net.

Shark attacks on heavy netfuls of fish have long been a major problem of commercial fishermen. The loss in fish is serious enough, but damage to the net may be even more so, for a good mackerel net costs several thousand dollars.

DISCHARGED—Capt. Wallace P. Wilson, 610 South 19th street, has returned here after receiving an honorable discharge from the U. S. army at Camp Shelby, Miss., on Oct. 25. He entered the army April 1, 1941, and served in North Africa, Italy and France. He will leave Thursday for Milwaukee, where he will assume his prewar position with the Wisconsin Electric Power company.

Hallowe'en Carnival At High School Tonight

The annual Hallowe'en carnival will be held this evening at the Escanaba senior high school for Escanaba kiddies, young and old. The affair will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Homerooms of the senior high school have prepared a variety of shows and entertainment features. They included the ever popular football follies, shooting gallery, makeup booth, chamber of horrors and a number of original shows with such alluring names as "This Curious World", "People Are Funny", "Doctor Cut-em" and "Comic Strip".

There will be the usual midway in the school gymnasium. Horror shows, always popular, are offered in a wide variety of chills and screams. Each homeroom is responsible for one show, including the necessary clean-up squad.

At ten o'clock the shows and concessions will stop and the big show of the night, "The Monster Maker", a movie, will be shown in the auditorium. Since this picture will be of no interest to grade school children, two movies, "Three on a Limb" and "Jack Frost", will be shown in the library for them.

The student council and the students have been working vigorously in preparation for this event, which is one of the highlights of the school's social season. Tickets have been distributed to school children throughout the city and it is expected that upwards of 1400 youngsters will parade the corridors and classrooms of the school tonight.

A few of the shows offered will be:

The Mortuary—home room 211
Frankenstein Death Chamber—home room 318
Dr. Cut-em—home room 216
This Curious World—home room 112
Hospital—home room 201
Beauty Parlor—home room 220
Comic Strip—home room 214
Truth or Consequences—home room 306 and 201
Vaudeville Show—home room 304
People are Funny—home room

204 The Gay Nineties—home room
314 Bob for Apples—home room 100
Football Follies—home room
310 Ring the Duck—home room 311
Homeroom 300 will sponsor new hairdos while 116 will have free throws, kiss toss will be in room 212, picture booth in 311, and fortune telling in rooms 200 and 301. The regular midway will be held in the gym with the drafting class having a turkey shoot, machine shop will be having basketball toss, and the auto shop class will sponsor a shooting gallery.
